

Assignment One: Self-Introduction

BEFORE: a good start

My Name is Yumi.

I'm work at tokyo.

I work sales.

Now I study English.

Next summer I will go san francisco
in america.

I'm little nervous.

My english is little basic.

But it's learning is fun.

In america I will work with parterns
at the san francisco branch.

That branch is for asia sales.

After: much better

My name is Yumi, and I work in sales in Tokyo. Right now, I'm studying English, because next summer, I'm going to San Francisco in the US. There, I'm going to work with partners at our branch which handles sales to Asia.

I'm a little nervous, because my English is a bit basic, but learning is fun.

Feedback

Great job Yumi. Your writing is easy to understand.

1. Grammar – Capitalize proper nouns and proper adjectives. Proper nouns are names.

X america O America = proper noun (it's a name)

X Country O country = common noun (not a name)

X City

O city

X asian

O Asian

X san francisco

O San Francisco

2. Vocabulary – Let's use different words with the same meaning.

Example

Δ I'm a little nervous, because my English is a little basic. = OK

O I'm a bit nervous, because my English is a little basic. = Nice!

3. Grammar - Use conjunctions, (but, and, because) to connect short sentences.

Δ My name is Yumi. I work in sales in Tokyo.

0 My name is Yumi, and I work in sales in Tokyo.

Δ Right now, I'm studying English. Next summer, I'm going to San Fransisco.

0 Right now, I'm studying English, because next summer, I'm going to San Francisco.

This is just a sample.
